We provide a cost effective, turnkey service... many others claim this, but we genuinely deliver.

Equipment Pool

To be seen and heard are still the most important aspects of any event. Our investment in the latest equipment and technologies is key to the service we provide.

Many events rely on large screens and our Vision department is expert in providing high quality large screen images. Our extensive range of LED Screens, High Power Projectors and Plasma Screens are based on premium quality equipment from manufacturers such as Barco, Christie and Sanyo.

We have also invested heavily in HD equipment from Sony and Roland which is now available across all our branches.

Sound is an essential element of any live event. We are sound specialists, providing high quality sound reinforcement whatever the environment. Our vast stock of equipment includes products from "best in class" manufacturers such as Midas, Shure, Logic Systems and Turbosound.

We are experts at engineering large radiomic systems, and have invested heavily in new CH 38 products from Sennheiser.

Effective Lighting can enhance the look of any event with subtlety or amazing contrast, giving the power to create striking displays. We can provide lighting systems including low energy LED and intelligent moving heads that can be tailored to any requirement - conference lighting, special effects, pyrotechnics, exhibition and display as well as stunning lighting for parties and receptions.

Set building

One of Piccadilly AV's unique selling points is its in-house set and stage build department, providing standard and custom made sets to your specification. This means you cut out the middle-man, reducing costs and ensuring complete control over production.

We work in traditional materials such as timber and fabrics and we also fabricate in steel and aluminium. Many AV companies claim to build sets. However this is usually restricted to standard panels or results in the use of sub-contractors at additional cost.

Logistics

Another aspect of Piccadilly's turnkey service is our own fleet of vehicles. We are on time, every time, without relying on 3rd party suppliers, ensuring a cost effective service to our clients. Recent cost comparisons show us to be up to 60% less expensive on transport costs than competitor suppliers. Through investment in environmentally friendly vehicles and reducing mileage by utilising multi-drop routes for deliveries and inter-branch movements, we have significantly reduced our CO2 emissions.

Project Management and Technical Crew

A key Piccadilly resource is our Project Management team. We have always believed in developing skills in-house, without over-reliance on freelance staff. We provide support to clients before events either free of charge or at special rates. The site recce and production meetings are not usually charged for, so considerably reducing pre-production costs. We have one of the most experienced PM teams in the AV industry, with excellent knowledge of most UK venues and we have also worked throughout Europe and the Middle East. This is all supported by Technical Crew who are well trained, experienced and above all, cheerful!

It's just what we do...

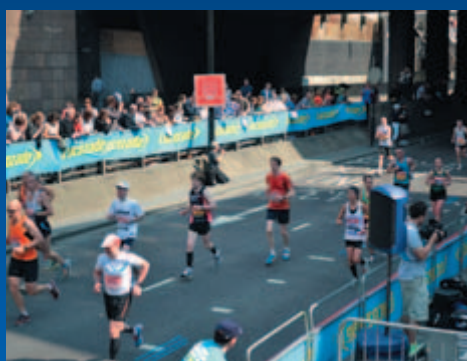

And now we're bringing the same skills to the outdoor event market.

Introducing...

Sound has always been one of our key skills, and now we have expanded our equipment to include outdoor PA systems, including a range of brand new commentary and technical vehicles. We are already making our mark, with systems for the London Marathon, Glasgow 10K run, Bath Half Marathon and other varied events including steam rallies and public demonstrations.

We are now that "one source" for outdoor events as we have been for indoor events. Our new equipment stocks include large outdoor LED screens, 2 way radios and audio visual support for corporate hospitality.
